

THE WEST IS SWEEPED BY THREE CYCLONES

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION IS BROUGHT BY WIND.

Six People Injured, One Fatally at Hartford, Kansas—One Man Killed at Wallace, Neb.—Omaha Family Escape Narrowly—Heavy Gale in Iowa—Storm Stories.

Hartford, Kan., June 18.—About 5 o'clock last evening a cyclone struck this place, coming from the southwest, and swept everything in front of it. Its path was clean-cut and about 100 feet in width. No one, so far as known, was actually killed, although several persons were injured so badly they are not expected to live. The wounded: LAWSON, MR., will die. LAWSON, Mrs., seriously hurt. RAWSON, MRS. MARY E., probably fatally injured. RAWSON, CORA, severely hurt. RAWSON, OLA, badly cut about the head. SMITH, MRS. H. K., severely hurt.

About twelve houses were totally destroyed and many barns and outhouses. The total loss is estimated at all the way from $10,000 to $20,000.

An eyewitness of the storm says: "I was on the incoming Missouri, Kansas & Texas train, due at Hartford at 5:20. Just as the train was stopping I and other passengers noticed to the northwest a peculiarly shaped white cloud formed nearly like a balloon, but a little more tapering. Its peculiar whiteness first attracted our attention. In a few moments it seemed to stretch and put its neck to the ground, turning darker. Then clouds from all directions seemed to cluster around the top and as the small end struck the earth trees, fences, everything it struck, were torn up and lifted into the air.

"The first house it struck seemed to be lifted bodily into space and in a second beams, furniture, stoves, bedding and all kinds of material were seen shooting in all directions, high up in the air. By this time passengers were beginning to notice that the funnel-shaped cloud was coming straight for the car in which we were and inquiries began to be made as to what was best to be done.

"Suddenly a Methodist preacher, I do not know his name, solved the question by shouting, 'Here goes for the prairie,' and rushed to the door, followed by every one in the car. None, however, was able to catch him. The run was not necessary, for when only about 100 feet from the car the storm center took a sudden turn eastward and swept past the rear end of the train without touching it.

"The storm, after passing through the town to the east, seemed to bump the Neosho river, and then rise and disappear in the air."

STORM REACHES WALLACE.

Many People Injured, and One Death Reported.

Wallace, Neb., June 18.—A cyclone of terrific force, covering a territory of ten miles wide and about thirty in length, passed just north of here Sunday afternoon, taking a southeasterly course and sweeping everything in its path. Houses, barns, windmills, fences, etc., were picked up and carried for miles. As yet only one death is reported, that of Joseph Young, whose house was picked up and carried three miles in the air and then scattered in ruins. His body was found half a mile from where the house stood, horribly mangled, with every shred of clothing torn from it. The members of the families of Matthew Born, John Staley and Martin Lakin were more or less injured, their houses being torn from over their heads. Peter Laplante reports losing ten head of horses by lightning. It is feared deaths will be reported from the east end of the county.

HAD NARROW ESCAPES.

William Stolz and his Family Saved by the Cellar.

Omaha, Neb., June 18.—A cyclone passed over Richardson county yesterday when three funnel-shaped clouds came together and merged into one. It took everything in its path. A mule, which was standing in the barn, was picked up and carried thirty rods and dismembered. A fine mare was injured so badly she had to be shot. About 600 bushels of grain were scattered to the four winds and 200 chickens were killed. William Stolz, his wife and six children were in the cellar when the storm struck the house. The shingles were torn off and all the windows in the east side were broken, as the house stood on the edge of the storm. The occupants were uninjured.

Heavy Winds Do Damage.

Creston, Iowa, June 18.—A severe hurricane passed over this section of the state at an early hour yesterday morning. West of here, along the line of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, buildings were blown down and miles of fences leveled. In the counties of Montgomery, Adams and Union considerable damage was done to crops; a heavy rain followed the storm and beat down the growing grain. Several washouts of bridges are reported.

Storms All Over the State.

Lincoln, Neb., June 18.—Reports from all over the state tell of a heavy rainfall preceded in sections by a wind almost cyclonic in energy. At Hampton many houses were partially wrecked and windmills in the country were badly damaged. Bradshaw, forty miles west of Lincoln, had a similar experience. No loss to life or serious accidents are reported.

Damage at Hampton, Neb.

Hampton, Neb., June 18.—A wind-storm, with almost the energy of a cyclone, reached here at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Windmills all over the town and in the adjacent country were blown down and many houses and barns in the village were partially demolished. Goods in business buildings which were unroofed were badly damaged by the rain which followed.

Showers in Illinois.

Princeton, Ill., June 18.—The eight-weeks' drouth in Bureau and Putnam counties was broken yesterday by a heavy shower that lasted three hours. The rain came in ample time for corn and potatoes, but too late for wheat and oats. A good rain has also fallen at Freeport, Nokomis, Nashville, Galena, Carlyle, Lacon, Hillsboro, Mascoutah, Sterling, Rockford and Peoria.

Iowa Crop Prospects.

Creston, Iowa, June 18.—A heavy rain passed over this part of Iowa yesterday afternoon. Exhaustive reports from every station on the Burlington in western Iowa show that prospects for all kinds of crops are excellent. Work in harvest fields will begin in about eight or ten days.

Cloudburst in Missouri.

Cameron, Mo., June 18.—A cloud burst six miles east of here last night did great damage to the growing crops. The water flowed over field, overflowing creeks, washing away crops, live stock and bridges. There were no fatalities.

NEW WARSHIPS FOR JAPAN.

American Builders to Get Contracts Which Will Aggregate $15,000,000.

Washington, June 18.—American shipbuilders are about to be let into a contract for rebuilding the Japanese navy. Contracts aggregating $15,000,000 will shortly be let by the Japanese government. Officers of the United States navy department say that the action of Germany, Russia and France in uniting to rob Japan of some of the best fruits of her victory over China will shut those countries out of the competition, which will be limited to contractors of Great Britain and America.

Assurances have come directly to American contractors that they will be given the preference in these contracts. The smaller vessels will be constructed by the Japanese government, but the largest warships cannot be built there. There is an exuberant spirit displayed by the naval officers over this prospective triumph of American skill and they lay claim for a large share of the credit to the fact that the flower of the American navy was in the orient during the recent war.

BANK OF COMMERCE FAILS.

Old Financial House at Indianapolis Forced to the Wall.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18.—The Bank of Commerce, one of the oldest financial institutions in this city, made an assignment yesterday for the benefit of creditors. The assets and liabilities are about equal. The schedule of assets turned over to the assignee shows real estate valued at $30,500, which was levied on and turned over to the sheriff last week to satisfy a judgment for $76,000 in favor of the Knights and Ladies of Honor. It also shows personal property in notes and securities amounting to $180,000. The directors say the depositors were provided for by a deposit in the Indiana National bank last week, and will lose nothing.

To Open the Great Canal.

Hamburg, June 18.—There has been an enormous influx of visitors here to view the ceremonies and spectacles incident to the opening of the Baltic-North Sea canal at Kiel. According to orders by the navy department at Washington the American men-of-war at Kiel will be illuminated by electricity every night during their stay at that port. The canal will be opened by Prince Hohenzollern breaking a thread across the entrance of the canal. The waterway opened by the new canal has been navigable for small vessels for over 100 years.

England Refuses Arbitration.

London, June 18.—In the house of commons Sir Edward Grey, under foreign secretary, stated that in January last United States Ambassador Bayard informed Lord Kimberley, secretary of state for foreign affairs, that the United States government would gladly lend its good offices to arbitrate the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela. The position was explained to Mr. Bayard that the British government was ready to submit to arbitration within certain limits, but they could not agree in regard to the extensive reference upon which Venezuela insisted.

Will Probably Meet in November.

Washington, July 18.—The republican national committee will probably meet in November this year, instead of December. The republican leaders believe that the next national convention should be held in May, and, inasmuch as the national committee must give six months' notice of the holding of the convention, it will be necessary, therefore, that the committee shall hold its meeting in November.

Fighting in Formosa.

London, June 18.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says that fighting is in progress at Taiwan, island of Formosa, where 10,000 Black Flags under General Liu Yung are assembled. The Japanese are now attacking the forts at that place and the British warship Spartan is removing the foreigners from the town.

GEN. EMILIO CALLEJA, Governor of Havana.

Martinez Campos was wounded by a shot from the rebels while he was on board a yacht at the port of Quantanamo. No confirmation of this report has been had from Santiago de Cuba."

Cavalry to Commence Operations.

Havana, June 18.—Gen. Pedro Mella, civil governor of the province of Puerto Principe, and 900 cavalymen have arrived at Puerto Principe, the capital of that province. All the troops are prepared to take the field against the insurgents in three days' time. Capt. Gen. Martinez de Campos is trying to prevent the revolution from extending in the province of Puerto Principe and is about to commence an active movement of the troops against the insurgents. A detachment of 600 cavalry from the province of Santa Clara has arrived here. In an engagement in Duabo the insurgents lost twelve killed and had thirty wounded.

Suspected of Filibustering.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—There is a suspicion in shipping circles here that the excursion steamer Bridgeton, which left this port several weeks ago, ostensibly to engage in the passenger trade in South America, has, like the tugboat George W. Childs, entered the service of the Cuban revolutionists. The Bridgeton passed to sea Thursday, May 23, at 9:30 o'clock p. m. The George W. Childs preceded her less than twenty-four hours. The Bridgeton was last heard from June 3, when she sailed from St. Augustine, Fla., having touched at Beaufort, N. C., on her voyage.

To Poison the Maceos.

Key West, Fla., June 18.—Two Spanish spies, Claro Diaz from Baracoa and Roman Pascal Martinez of Manzanillo, are reported to have been sent to the rebel headquarters by General Martinez Campos to poison General Antonio Maceo. A price has also been set upon General Jose Maceo's head. The men sent to accomplish this work, it is asserted, will pretend to be deserters from the Spanish army. The Maceos have been warned and will probably be upon their guard.

At the big works of the Eberhard Manufacturing company notices were posted notifying the 1,000 employes of a 10 per cent increase. It is understood that other big iron concerns of the city will follow the example set by the two industries named.

Joliet, Ill., June 18.—Official notice was given last night that a general advance of 10 per cent will be made in the pay of men employed by the Joliet works of the Illinois Steel company on July 1, except those paid on sliding scale.

Republican League Clubs.

Cleveland, O., June 18.—Delegates from every state and territory in the union are on their way here to attend the national convention of Republican League clubs, which will convene tomorrow morning and continue through Friday. The meeting was held in Denver a year ago, and was considered a great success, but for the reason more important affairs are up for consideration. The next presidential campaign is a year nearer at hand, and there is much interest among Republicans all over the land in the disposition of the currency question. These two problems will occupy first attention. In all the number of delegates will exceed 2,000.

ANOTHER GOOD MAN STEALS A FORTUNE

HEAVY DEFALCATION AT DENVER, COLO.

H. J. Aldrich Flees From the City, Leaving a Money Tangle Involving $400,000—Endless Trouble Will Be Caused in Straightening Things—Taylor Will Be Punished.

Denver, Col., June 18.—Henry J. Aldrich has disappeared from Denver and at the same time it has been discovered that 300 to 400 ranches have clouded titles and $400,000 is involved in the affair.

Aldrich was president and general manager of the Colorado Securities Company, and as such he diverted money sent here by eastern investors who desired to protect shortages incurred in maturing obligations due to the drop in real estate. Money was sent in by investors which was never properly applied, and the result is that titles to property involved are under a cloud. In cases where money has been remitted by farmers of the Arkansas valley and elsewhere, the interest coupons have not been returned, and in other cases the remittances not credited properly, and in some cases property was advertised for sale.

The company's books show over 1,000 loans which have not been properly settled and the result will be great confusion in the titles, every one of which will have to be examined before any can be established as valid. The debts of the company will aggregate nearly $400,000. Aldrich is a church member, a prominent figure, and a pillar of St. John's cathedral, where his name is always mentioned as a man who is above reproach and a worthy man. He is supposed to be in Australia, now, or Hawaii. He has been missing from Denver for five weeks. The loss falls in many cases upon people who can ill-afford to lose it, in the east, who sought the high interest rates paid in the west.

[TAYLOR'S CASE]

Officials Assert That the Defaulter Will Be Punished.

Deadwood, S. D., June 18.—State Treasurer Phillips announced yesterday that he had received word that W. W. Taylor, the defaulter, would surrender at Pierre to-day. The governor and Treasurer Phillips both declared that the state would not lose a cent, as property valued at more than the amount of the defalcation had been turned over by Taylor and his bondsmen. Criminal proceedings, however, will be taken against him with as much severity as if he was a less prominent criminal, so the state authorities assert.

SCOTT'S MURDER TRIAL.

Defense Asks That the Prosecution Prove the Venue.

Butte, Neb., June 18.—The work of securing a jury in the trial of the men accused of the murder of Barrett Scott was finally completed yesterday. After the jury had been sworn Attorney Harrington, for the defense, gave notice that he would file a motion that he hoped would dispose of the case as far as Boyd county was concerned. The motion, he said, would be in effect that the state should be required to make a showing in regard to the allegations in the information which charges that the conspiracy to murder Barrett Scott was laid in the county. In the event that the court sustains the motion then the defense will move to dismiss the prisoners at the bar on the ground that as they have already been placed in jeopardy no further action can be taken against them on the charge of murder. Attorney General Churchill said the state expected to prove briefly that Scott was murdered in Holt county and his body thrown into the Niobrara river and was found on the Boyd county side of the channel. The feeling is very strong against the men responsible for the trial of the case in this county, and it is generally believed the prisoners will be found not guilty. Fully 1,000 strangers are in Butte and nearly every man is heavily armed, and it would not take much to make trouble.

Birmingham, Ala., June 18.—While Mrs. James Drennen was playing with her 5-year-old son, whom she had in her lap in the kitchen of her house, near Hamilton, Ala., yesterday, the boy reached to a shelf nearby and upset a pitcher of kerosene oil over her garments. E. Davis on the north side of Third street and the home of Mrs. William Sullivan, adjoining. The fire was the work of incendiaries, and in the excitement thieves looted the town. Wichita, Kan., June 18.—A special received here from Fort Reno says a sheriff's posse in "Q" county, Okla., killed the Indian supposed to have assaulted Grandpa Lewis a week ago today. The killing has stirred the Indians to such a point an outbreak is feared. Capt. Mackey's troop of the Third cavalry is on the scene, and troops are under orders to be ready to take the field at a moment's notice. The killing of the Indian is said to have been altogether uncalled for.

It was a great day for Upper New York. The joining of the waters of the Hudson and East rivers was celebrated as no similar event has been celebrated since the Erie canal was opened in 1825. The weather was perfect. There were crowds of people on the bridges that cross the canal and at all points commanding a view of the unique marine display. In addition there was a land display which had many interesting features.

Afrail of the Olympia.

She is said to have behaved in an alarming manner on her trip to Santa Cruz, even in that comparatively smooth summer sea. She rolled badly, showing, as stated, a lack of stability and a top-heaviness that are ominous of disaster in case of a heavy sea.

The drouth has been of great damage to the hay crop, and it is now beyond help. The best judges place the yield at from one-half to two-thirds of a crop. North Johnstown News.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN, June 18.—Our church was cleaned and decorated very nicely for children's day, and the programme was fine. Much credit is due to the superintendent, E. C. Cory and his committee, for it took much time and patience to drill and practice to get it so complete. It was one of the best children's days we have had. The large house was filled with attentive listeners, and all pronounced it good. C. W. Bullock and wife visited Whitewater friends last week. School closed last week at the stone school house, with a picnic in G. L. Shumway's woods.

Dyspepsia and How To Cure It.

"Simple diet is best, for many dishes bring many diseases." A mighty wise man wrote these words—Pliny the Elder. And they're as true as when he penned them—more than eighteen hundred years ago. If folks were to pay attention to their diet, there would be no dyspepsia. But they don't; and so grim dyspepsia reigns.

He can be dethroned, though. "Septicide" will make him abdicate. He does not rule over Mrs. H. Webb, any more; nor over Mrs. E. T. Foote, nor Mrs. Royal Wood and hundreds of others we might mention. He cannot attain his throne when opposed by Septicide.

Are you dyspeptic? Perhaps so. Do you like the feeling? Possibly not. Then buy some Septicide. All druggists sell it. Use it according to directions, and just as surely as night follows day, or the sun rises in the east or sets in the west, will dyspepsia leave you, and you will be quickly, effectually and permanently cured.

ALDERMEN HONORED DR. HENRY PALMER

CITY COUNCIL ADOPT RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Only the Business That Had to Be Seen to Was Done Last Night and the Meeting Then Adjourned—Business Men Take Action—Other Societies Meet.

General business was dispensed with last night by the common council, and the proceedings were abridged on account of the death of Dr. Henry Palmer. Mayor Baines was detained at home by the serious condition of his brother, and President Heddles was absent in Europe. It therefore fell to the lot of Clerk Badger to call the council to order, when on motion of Alderman Sutherland, Alderman F. S. Winslow was elected president pro tem. All the aldermen were present except Alderman Heddles and McLean.

Alderman Smith said that in view of the death of Dr. Henry Palmer, it was proper that some suitable action be taken by the council. He therefore moved that the regular order of business be dispensed with. There was some important business that was necessary to be transacted at the meeting, the adoption of a portion of the uniform charter, after this was accomplished he would move as a token of respect, that the council adjourn until next Monday evening, June 24.

Resolutions Adopted. Alderman Burnham said he agreed with Alderman Smith, and had prepared some resolutions which he desired to present. The alderman then presented the following and moved that they be adopted, which motion prevailed by a unanimous vote:

WHEREAS, Dr. Henry Palmer, an old and honored citizen, an ex-mayor of this city, a man eminent in his profession, active in everything pertaining to the best interests of the city of Janesville, has been called from us by death; therefore Resolved, By the common council of the city of Janesville, that in the death of Dr. Henry Palmer this city has suffered a great loss, one that will be felt in our homes and business circles; that as a mark of respect the flags on all the city buildings be displayed at half mast on the day of his funeral; that this resolution be spread upon the records of this body, and a copy properly engrossed be signed by the mayor and city clerk and sent to the family of the deceased under the seal of the city.

Adopt the Ordinance. Alderman Smith's motion was then adopted, and Alderman Burnham introduced an ordinance entitled "an ordinance to adopt section 142 A of chapter 326 of the general laws of 1889, entitled 'an act dividing cities into classes and providing for their incorporation and government, as amended by chapter 312, of the general laws of 1893, and by chapter 199 of the general laws of 1895,'" it being an ordinance in relation to city funds. The ordinance was read the first and second times over the rules.

The bonds of Contractors Stewart & Cullen, for repairing Jackson street bridge, was approved and placed on file and the council then adjourned.

BUSINESS MEN TAKE ACTION

Members to Attend the Funeral and Adopt Resolutions.

Members of the Janesville Business Men's Association paid the final tribute to the memory of Dr. Henry Palmer last night at a special meeting called by President Vankirk to take suitable action.

Hon. Fenner Kimball spoke feelingly of the deceased member of the association and moved that a committee of three members, consisting of Stanley B. Smith, Captain Pliny Norcross and Edward M. Hyzer be appointed to draft resolutions of respect, which resolution was adopted. It was also decided, that the members attend the funeral this afternoon in a body, and a resolution that all merchants of the city be requested to close their respective places of business, during the funeral, which was adopted. Ten applications for membership were received and the meeting adjourned.

OTHER SOCIETIES TO TURN OUT

Elks, Fire Police and Grand Army to Attend the Funeral.

The Elks decided to turn out in a body, the decision being reached at the meeting held at Castle hall last evening, while the fire police took similar action. W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, Grand Army of the Republic also decided to attend the funeral as a post, the doctor having been a member of the post and a past department surgeon.

TO HEAR MISS ROLSTON SING Many Janesville People to Attend the Senior Class Concert.

Miss Belle Rolston will sing at the senior concert to be given in the Congregational church of Beloit tomorrow evening. Since leaving this city Miss Rolston has taken the place of Geneva Johnstone Bishop in a trio which has been giving concerts with great success in the northwest.

The reception to the senior class will occur immediately after the close of the concert. This reception will afford the Janesville friends of Miss Rolston an opportunity for reviewing other acquaintances.

One of the features of the concert will be the soprano solo, Canto de Lella, by Miss Rolston, with violin obligato by Max Bendix. The C & N. W. road will sell tickets for a fare and one third, good for return two days. A special train will leave for Janesville after the concert. Admission 75 cents. Reserved seats $1. The sale of seats began this morning and for y or fifty people from here will probably attend.

A GRAND OLD SCHOOL IS MILTON COLLEGE

PATRIOTISM IS TAUGHT AS WELL AS OTHER THINGS

Chicago Times-Herald Says That The Institution Has Given Wisconsin Some of Its Brightest Minds—Sketch of Its Growth and Development—Classes Went to the War.

The following kindly article appeared in the Chicago Times-Herald this morning, concerning Milton college: "In the rush and confusion of commencement week there is one educational institution in the state that is liable to be lost sight of except by a little circle of friends. This is Milton college. Probably a great many people in Wisconsin never heard of the institution. Yet it is one of the oldest schools in the state, and has given to Wisconsin some of its brightest minds. Though of late years somewhat overshadowed by the larger colleges, Milton has gone modestly but vigorously ahead with the work which it has been doing for the past half century. 'Milton Academy,' as it was known for years, had its beginning back in territorial times in 1844. It was at one time known as 'Du Lac Academy,' though the name was little used, the old title of 'Milton Academy,' by which it is endeared to so many students, sticking like a burr. In 1854 it became 'Milton Academy' by charter provisions, and remain so until the more ambitious title was taken in 1867.

Two Sabbath's Each Week.

The school has always been conducted under the auspices of that curious sect, the Seventh Day Baptists which is numerous in and about Milton. In the beginning of the school it was understood that instruction should not be furnished on either the seventh nor the first day of the week, as managers and students observed either one or the other of these days as the Sabbath, and so it has continued up to the present time. In 1858 Rev. W. C. Whitford—'Elder Whitford' as he has lovingly known to generations of students—was made the head of the institution, and has held the position to the present time. As a graduate of Union College, New York, he came to the school as instructor as early as 1849, dividing his time between preaching and teaching, as, in fact, he did for many years after.

Taught Its Students Patriotism.

'Milton Academy, though conducted by the Seventh Day Baptists, drew its students from all classes without respect to creeds. Most of its noted graduates were of other denominations. There was one thing the old school taught thoroughly, and that was patriotism. When the war broke out its classrooms were almost depleted. Studies were given up for drill and school books for muskets. Milton Academy raised and sent into the army two full companies and parts of three other companies. Of these sixty-nine reached commission ranging from the blank shoulder straps of a second lieutenant to the star of a brigadier general. Of those the academy gave to the war forty-three died in the service.

Some of the Graduates.

Milton college has furnished the state three superintendents of public instruction, President Whitford, Professor Edward Searing and Jesse B. Thayer. Among its graduates are President Albert Salisbury, of White-water normal school; President Harvey, of the Milwaukee normal school; ex-Congressman Osawell, of Fort Atkinson; O. T. Williams, president of the Civic Federation of Milwaukee, besides hundreds of instructors inside and outside of the state. Each year these graduates in scores gather to wish the old school continued success and for President Whitford many more years of such happiness as comes from a full and useful life. There is no more loyal body than the alumni of old Milton."

The best physicians in Cincinnati failed to help me. My limbs and body were swollen to enormous size, and I was suffering terrible agony. CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT
IN 4 TO 10 DAYS
OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

by Narcoti-Cure.

AMHERST, Mass., Feb. 8, 1895.

The Narcoti Chemical Co.,

Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years and of late have consumed a 10 cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took Narcoti-Cure although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days all "hankering" for chewing disappeared and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am gaining flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say use Narcoti-Cure.

Yours truly, W. N. WAITE.

If your druggist is unable to give you full particulars about NARCOTI-CURE, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5 for a bottle by mail.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1778—The British evacuated Philadelphia.
1812—Congress declared war against Great Britain.
1815—Battle of Waterloo.
1860—The second or adjourned national Democratic convention met in Front Street theater, Baltimore. The convention met on the first call at Charleston, April 23, 1860, and after stirring controversy upon the subject of slavery adopted a platform unfavorable to the south. Most of the southern delegates withdrew, and the convention adjourned to meet at Baltimore. Meanwhile the seats of the seceding delegates had been filled. This convention nominated Douglas for president.
1894—William Hart, N. A., a well known painter, died at Mount Vernon, N. Y., born 1822.

Must Have Been Misfits.

"Ma," said Willie, who had been to the missionary sewing society with his mother, "I feel very sorry for the poor little heathen."
"That's right, Willie; I am glad to see you show such spirit."
"Yes'm, I'd feel sorry for anybody that had to wear the clothes that you people were making to-day at the society."—Texas Siftings.

Slain His Thousands.

Fuddy—You say that Cheffery has slain his thousands. Has he been a soldier, or are you only joking and mean that he is a physician?
Duddy—My dear fellow, I never was more serious in my life. No, sir; he is neither soldier nor doctor. He is the publisher of a cook book.—Boston Transcript.

Short Weight.

The Salesman (holding up a vellum-bound brochure)—The price of the book is $10.
Mrs. Nurich—Nonsense! You can't impose upon me in that way. Why, a minute ago you offered me a book of twice the size for $1.50.—Chicago Record.

An Aid to Memory.

Teacher (with outline map)—What country is this?
Class—(Dense silence.)
Teacher—Come, can't any of you remember? It is the shape of a boot.
Bright Boy—I remember now. It's Italy, the place where the bootblacks come from.—N. Y. Weekly.

Not Entirely Certain.

"You see I came bright and early this evening, Miss Pinkie," smilingly observed Cholley, laying his cane and gloves on the center table.
"Yes, I see you came early, Mr. Lightpayte," guardedly replied Miss Pinkie.—Chicago Tribune.

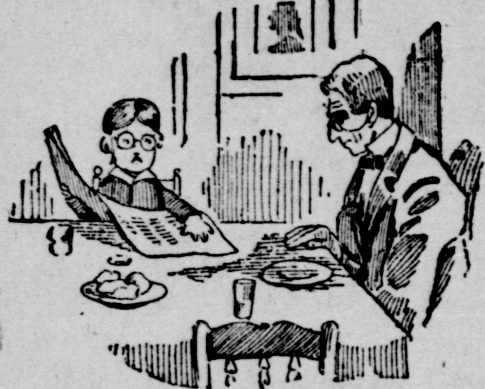

Infantile Amusement.

Hopper—Is the baby getting old enough to entertain himself?
Popper—No, but he rolled out of bed, broke a window and fell downstairs to-day, and we are feeling much encouraged.—St. Louis Republic.

The Horrid Man.

She said she owed her life to him. And then the horrid man asked her if she would marry him and pay on the installment plan.—Indianapolis Journal.

DIRECT FROM BOSTON.

Browning Bean, Jr.—Grandfather, my conscience urges me to remind you that you forgot the necessity of making a return, in your tax report, of the fibrous quadruped known as a "hobby horse" that you presented me with during the recent holiday festivities. I believe I am correct in assuming this to have been in accordance with the law as exemplified in section 23, of the late income tax, regarding "personal property acquired by gift."—Life.

Spilled by Overdoing.

Cholly (on his knees)—Maud, you have intoxicated me with your charms.
Maud—Pshaw! You're no match for me.
Cholly—Why not?
Maud—You get drunk too easily.—Town Topics.

More Science Than Luck.

"I've no luck at horse racing, but in love I am the luckiest man alive."
"Is that so?"
"Yes, I have been in love with a dozen different girls, and none of them ever married me yet."—Texas Siftings.

The Fatal Test.

Voice at the Head of the Stairs—George, have you been drinking?
George—No'm!
Voice—Say chrysanthemum.
George (silent for a moment)—I'm drunkish, m' dear!—Syracuse Post.

Very Suspicious.

May—I think Count de Rox is a bogus nobleman.
Pamela—Why?
May—He has plenty of money.—Brooklyn Life.

A Fair Proposition.

Judge—Six months in jail at hard labor.
Vagrant—Say, judge, can't you quadruple that time and remit the labor?—Detroit Free Press.

A Girl's Story of Lincoln.

I thought I would send you an anecdote concerning President Lincoln that I never have seen printed before. Years ago, when my papa was a little boy, and Abraham Lincoln was a poor young man practicing law in Woodford county, during court week at Metamora grandpa brought him home to supper. It was a cold, stormy Monday night, and grandma hurried around getting supper, and thought she would have something extra, so she opened a jar of preserved peaches. When they sat down to eat grandma dished the peaches out three to a person. It seemed to take Abraham Lincoln a long time to eat a peach, and he did not finish it either. So as soon as he had finished his supper and gone into another room grandma went to his dish to see why it was he hadn't eaten, and there she found she had given him the little muslin sack with the peach kernels and spice in it instead of a peach. Grandma hurried into the other room to apologize to Mr. Lincoln, and he said to her: "That's all right, Mrs. Perry, my mother used the same thing, and it was so good that I wanted to get all the juice out of it."—Frankie Perry, in Chicago Tribune.

A Polite Owl.

The owl made a bow
As I passed where she sat—
A very small owl—
She bowed this way and that,
So I lifted my hat.

Did she just bob her head
When the sun hurt her eyes?
So my grandfather said.
But she looked very wise
For an owl of her size.

Too Lazy to Move.

A most curious and sluggish creature is the tautawa, a nine-inch lizard, whose home is in New Zealand. This little imitation saurian has the reputation of being the laziest creature ever created. He is usually found clinging to rocks or logs along the shores of rivers and lakes and has been known to remain in one position perfectly motionless for many months. How the creature manages to exist is a mystery.

SHAKERS AND DOCTORS TALK TOGETHER.

In his able work entitled "Longevity" published a few years ago, Dr. John Gardner, of England, predicts that a vegetable agent will yet be found that shall so retard these changes that bring about old age as to prolong human life much beyond its present limit.

Acting, perhaps, upon the impulse produced by this thought, many eminent physicians have called from time to time upon the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon to inquire of them concerning the secrets of medicinal plants, in which these sincere simple-minded and God-fearing people are known to be wise and skillful beyond all other men.

The Shakers willingly told what they had learned and in turn received much valuable information about disease, which they at once made practical use of. The most important point was that if a genuine and certain remedy could be found for indigestion and dyspepsia, and the ailments growing out of it, a long step would be taken in the right direction. Old age, said these physicians, begins in a failure of the digestion, and so do most diseases at any or all periods of life. The result of these consultations was the discovery by the Shakers of the desired specific, made wholly from herbs and known as the Shaker Digestive Cordial. Its action is magical and worthy of its origin.

When there is distress after eating, heartburn, sick-headache, bad taste in the mouth, biliousness, weakness and weariness, cold hands and feet, aversion to food, nervousness, or any other symptoms of dyspepsia, the Cordial will prove its curative virtues. Behind it is the reputation of a people who have never defrauded or deceived their fellow men.

In order to test whether this remedy is adapted to your case at practically no cost, you may procure a trial bottle for ten cents of almost any druggist.

DR. PALMER AT REST
WITHIN THE TOMBFUNERAL WAS AN UNUSUALLY LARGE ONE.

Business Was Generally Suspended About Town and Many Noted Men From Abroad Were Present—Pall Bearers Were Former Students—Crowds Thronged the Streets

People of all classes congregated in and around the residence of the late Dr. Henry Palmer to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed citizen at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Madison street was packed with people from West Bluff to Ravine streets. The side walk and green sward underneath shade trees, scarcely afforded standing room, while the roadway, from one end to the other, was blocked with vehicles.

The Loyal Legion of Wisconsin was represented in the great gathering by Commander H. B. Harshaw, of Oshkosh; A. Ross Houston, of Milwaukee;

DR. HENRY PALMER.

Dr. Solon Marks, of Milwaukee; Colonel W. B. Britton and Major William Ruger, of Janesville, and Surgeon General F. W. Byers, who also represented the governor's staff. The Chicago College of Physicians and Surgeons was also represented by Drs. E. H. Soper, A. Lawson, A. K. Steele, W. E. Quine, O. A. King and J. P. Murphy.

Business Was Suspended.

Business in the city was generally suspended, all the dry goods, clothing, grocery houses, and many other places closed their business during the funeral while the proprietors attended the services. The Grand Army post turned out in good numbers, while the Light Infantry, under command of Captain Glass, appeared in uniform. The fire police turned out in a body.

Every physician in the city was present, they acting as honorary bearers, while the active bearers were Drs. King, Carey, Gibson, Pember, Mills, Warren, Evans and Judd, all of whom except Dr. Judd, had studied their first lessons in medicine in Dr. Palmer's office.

Rev. M. G. Hodge, of the Baptist church, conducted brief funeral services in the home, assisted in the song service by Mrs. Minnie S. Conrad, Mrs. L. A. Torrens, C. N. Vankirk and George Paris.

Rain Made No Difference.

Notwithstanding the threatening weather and occasional rain during the services, the old veteran soldiers, the younger National Guardsmen, and the vast crowd of people surrounding the home, lining the walks and filling the streets, waited patiently through the services, when the funeral party was escorted to their carriages by Undertaker F. D. Kimball, and the long procession, which was the largest ever witnessed at a protestant funeral in Janesville, moved slowly but solemnly northward to Oak Hill, where the remains of Dr. Henry Palmer, who in life was the foremost citizen, patriot and professional man, were tenderly laid at rest in the grave.

At the grave, after the religious services were closed, the W. H. Sargent Post G. A. R. took charge, and the burial service of the Grand Army was recited, and a salute fired over the open grave.

Thus was laid at rest one of Janesville's most prominent men: one who will long be remembered for his true manhood, worth and enterprise; one who did his part and more, in advancing the interests and growth of the city.

Floral Tributes Fine.

The floral tributes were especially fine, one piece in particular attracting marked attention. It was a loom, composed of carnations, roses and calla lilies, over the top of which was an arch inscribed "Our President." It was sent by the directors of the Cotton Mills Company, and made at the Linn street greenhouse. Eleven threads in the loom represented the eleven directors, with one broken string for the officer whose voice had been hushed by the angel of death. A piece of cloth, partially finished, could also be seen, and the design was much admired by all who saw it. Another piece was a floral sickle and sheaf, six feet high, resting on an easel, crowned with lilies and trimmed with smilax and ferns, the offering of the local physicians. It attracted attention as being most strikingly handsome and appropriate.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY A SUCCESS

Closing Event of the Commencement Exercises Was a Very Enjoyable One.

About seventy-five couples enjoyed the closing event of the Janesville High School commencement exercises at the Armory last evening when the senior class party was given. The decorations were very pretty and the music furnished by Prof. Smith's orchestra could not have been better. No details had been left unattended to which accounted for much of the evening's pleasure and the party did not break up until 1 o'clock. Among the guests from abroad were Miss Travers, Miss Adams, Beloit; Miss Coggsbill, Grace Slawson and Messrs. Arthur Ruhl, Roy Clements, Rockford; Miss Anderson, Miss Webb, White-water; Messrs. Peer, Behman and Hagar, Madison.

The Well Known Blacksmith Retains His Old Quarters.

M. A. Eddington, the expert blacksmith and horse shoer, will not have to move his shop in consequence of A. C. WILLIAM A. BAINES
CALLED BY DEATHINJURIES INFLICTED BY A HORSE PROVE FATAL.

After Lingered On a Bed of Pain Since a Week Ago Last Saturday His Suffering Finally Came to an End At 8 O'clock This Morning—Other Deaths.

William A. Baines, who was so seriously injured by a kick from a horse a week ago last Saturday, died this morning at 8 o'clock, as the result of his injuries. For several hours it was known that Mr. Baines could not survive and yesterday the attending physician said there was no hope. Therefore his death was not wholly unexpected, but it is, nevertheless, a severe blow to the wife and two little children who survive. Mr. Baines was born December 26, 1852, and was therefore but forty-three years old at the time of his death. He was a man popular with all who knew him and his untimely demise will be generally mourned. He was the eldest son of William B. Baines, of South Main street, and brother of Mayor Frank S. Baines, Mrs. William Bladon, Charles Baines, of Omaha, and Dr. Oscar O. Baines, of Chicago. No funeral arrangements have yet been made, but will be announced later.

Mrs. Frederick Blow.

Mrs. Frederick Blow died at her home in Riverview Park Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, aged sixty-seven years. Mrs. Blow's illness was of long duration, extending over a period of five years. She was born in Methuen, England, May 6, 1828, and came to Wisconsin, settling in Fond du Lac, when she was about twenty-two years of age. In Fond du Lac she married Thomas Baines, who died about two years after the marriage. Thirty-nine years ago she married Frederick Blow. The fruit of this marriage was four children—Charles H. Blow of Chicago, Mrs. Anna E. Masterson, Wm. T. and Joseph W. Blow of this city, who with the husband, survive. For forty years or more she was a consistent and exemplary member of the Methodist church. The funeral will be held from the home in Riverview Park Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the interment will be in Oak Hill.

Elijah Inman.

Elijah Inman, who is well known in this city, died at his home in the town of Bradford, Sunday morning, at 2 o'clock, aged 71 years. Mr. Inman has been troubled some time with heart difficulty from the effects of which he died. He leaves five children: Mrs. J. W. Echlin of this city; Mrs. F. C. Bradley and Milan Inman, of Clinton, and two sons, John and Shirley, who reside upon the farm. Mr. Inman was also an uncle of Mrs. E. J. Owen and E. E. Fisher of this city. He was born in the state of Pennsylvania and came to Rock county in an early day, settling in Plymouth and afterward removing to Bradford, where he has since lived. The funeral was held from the home at 2 o'clock this afternoon and was largely attended.

Mrs. Albert L. Winans.

After suffering many months with consumption, Mrs. Albert L. Winans quietly passed to her reward at 8:30 o'clock this morning, aged twenty-two years. Mr. Winans is employed in the switch yards of the Chicago & Northwestern railway in this city. Some time ago he was transferred to Chicago, but the change was too severe for the delicate constitution of his wife and he was compelled to return, his home being at the corner of School and Linn street. Mrs. Winans leaves, besides her husband, one little son, to mourn her early death. Notice of funeral will be given later.

TOILET MATTERS.

How to Wash the Face—To Obtain Special Perfumes.

The special fascination of a certain actress who has by birthright a pretty face is said to be that she "looks so well washed and clean, just like a child out of a bath." This is worthy of note, for a celebrated old beauty, whose complexion at 60 was fresher than that of our women at 30, said that the secret of her preservation was a clean face, and this was her method: First, she never used washrag or towel on her face, but washed it with her hands, rinsing it off with a soft sponge. She used clear water in the morning, but white castle soap or very warm water at night, and after drying it on a soft towel she would take a flesh brush and rub her cheeks, chin and forehead. Second, if she was going to be up late at night, she always slept as many hours in the day as she expected to be awake beyond her usual time. She insisted that soft water and sound sleep keep off wrinkles and spots.

SUMMER COSTUME.

Women desirous of being known by an individual perfume sometimes find it difficult to obtain a scent which other women cannot get with equal facility. Violet, heliotrope, iris, olive, even mayflower and sweet brier are to be had by anybody who chooses to seek for them, and the only way to secure individuality is to experiment with two or more varieties of scent, mixing and blending them until they are combined in a new fragrance. The ingredients and proportions must, of course, be kept a profound secret.

The custom of wearing sachets in the gown is falling into disuse. Sachets are suitable for the bureau drawer, but not for the person, for their scent is too strong, and there is too much of it to make their constant neighborhood a desirable thing.

The cut shows a gown of blue glace silk combined with blue and white striped silk. The blue skirt opens in front over a striped tablier framed in two bands of guipure. A red velvet cord finishes the foot. The blue bodice has a striped plastron, crossed by two red velvet straps fastened on the left side with silver buttons. A large sailor collar of guipure covers the shoulders. The striped standing collar has two red velvet choix. The striped balloon sleeves are bina.

FASHION NOTES.

Costly Accessories to Plain Costumes—Expensive Underwear.

Blouses are as popular as ever and are worn on even the most ceremonious occasions. Many new and charming materials have been introduced for these garments—a special kind of gauze or chiffon, silk zephyrs, innumerable dainty muslins and other soft fabrics.

Paste, which for buckles, buttons and ornaments generally has been in such immense demand of late, will have a serious rival this season in the rhinestone, which is already most extensively used for similar purposes by all the most exclusive modistes and milliners.

Stripes have once more returned to fashionable wear, striped silk being much used just now for formal gowns of all kinds. Some of the new stripes are beautifully broadened with flower trails, but the plain are equally popular. Black satin is also in high favor at present.

White cambric handkerchiefs trimmed with fine black chintilly insertions and lace and embroidered in black with a floral garniture are to be seen in the leading ladies' shops, while colored cambric ones, especially amber, mauve and sea green, are among the newest fantasies, enframined with a triple hem of finely drawn white cambric. Sets of collars, cuffs and center plaits for blouses are also practical and convenient and, trimmed with lace, most attractive.

Although this season's modes are many of them—simple in appearance, there is a great deal of refinement of detail, and it is possible to spend an immense amount of money on a costume that seems quite ingenuously plain. The goods itself may be costly, the linings of soft, rich silk, the buttons works of art, the small accessories of the finest and daintiest description, while the garments worn beneath the gown admit of well nigh limitless cost. The finest of handmade lace and embroidery, the most delicate of linen, batiste and silk are all pressed into the service as a means of spending money lavishly.

A sketch is given of a young lady's gown of lavender crepon. The bodice is plain. The bodice is of white satin, adorned back and front with three round plaits of crepon—the middle one being the largest—underneath which run crosswise bands of wide galloon. The bias sleeves are large at the top and tight below, being finished at the wrists by galloon. Five loops of white satin ribbon fall over the top of the sleeve. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Nothing But Herring.

A disappointed fish hawker was belaboring his slow but patient horse in the street one day and calling out his wares at intervals, as "Herrin, herrin, fresh herrin!"

A tender-hearted lady, seeing the act of cruelty to the horse, called out sternly from an upper window: "Have you no mercy?"

"No, mum," was the reply, "nothin' but herrin'!"—N. Y. Clipper.

More Chance of Appreciation.

Mrs. Van Riche—I'm determined that my daughter shall have a chance to show what she can do. I have arranged for her to sing before some opera singers and afterward to read a paper on art before some painters. Could I have her do more than that?

Mrs. Sennic—Yes. Have her deliver the lecture on art to the opera singers and sing before the painters.—Chicago Record.

A Most Magnificent Heirloom

Is health. No gem in tiara or coronet is so precious. Per contra, a hereditary tendency to disease, often proves a fatal legacy, since it most trifling causes may fertilize the latest germs of ill health, and render the fruitage deadly. An inherent transmitted weakness of the physical constitution is more effectually opposed and counteracted by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other safeguard. Digestion and assimilation promoted, due biliary secretion, action of the kidneys and bowels insured, are so many guarantees of permanent health, and these are the consequences, among others of like importances, of a resort to the Bitters. This medicine also prevents and remedies malarious complaints, nervousness, chronic insomnia, rheumatism and neuralgia. Such warnings as the loss of appetite and sleep, too, should not be disregarded. The Bitters will restore both without fail.

SUNDAY'S SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

THE PROPER SPHERE FOR WOMAN—HER OPPORTUNITY.

The Noted Preacher Says That Capacity Is the Guiding Star of Woman's Usefulness—The Allurements That Are Dangerous.

T. LOUIS, MO., June 16, 1895.—In his sermon for today (Rev. Dr. Talmage, who has reached this city on his western tour, discusses a subject of universal interest, viz.: "Woman's Opportunity," his text being: "She shall be called woman." Gen. 11, 23.

God, who can make no mistake, made man and woman for a specific work and to move in particular spheres—man to be regnant in his realm; woman to be dominant in hers. The boundary line between Italy and Switzerland, between England and Scotland, is not more thoroughly marked than this distinction between the empire masculine and the empire feminine. So entirely dissimilar are the fields to which God called them, that you can no more compare them than you can oxygen and hydrogen, water and grass, trees and stars. All this talk about the superiority of one sex to the other sex is an everlasting waste of ink and speech. A jeweler may have a scale so delicate that he can weigh the dust of diamonds; but where are the scales so delicate that you can weigh in them affection against affection, sentiment against sentiment, thought against thought, soul against soul, a man's world against a woman's world? You come out with your stereotyped remark that man is superior to woman in intellect; and then I open on my desk the swarthy, iron-tongued, thunder-bolted writings of Harriet Martineau and Elizabeth Browning, and George Eliot. You come on with your stereotyped remark about woman's superiority to man in the item of affection; but I ask you where was there more capacity to love than in John the disciple—and Matthew Simpson the bishop and Henry Martyn, the missionary? The heart of those men was so large, that after you had rolled into it two hemispheres, there was room still left to marshal the hosts of heaven, and set up the throne of the eternal Jehovah. I deny to man the throne intellectual. No human phraseology will ever decline the spheres; while there is an intuition by which we know when a man is in his realm, and when a woman is in her realm, and when either of them is out of it. No bungling legislature ought to attempt to make a definition, or to say: "This is the line and that is the line." My theory is, that if a woman wants to vote, she ought to vote, and that if a man wants to embroider and keep house, he ought to be allowed to embroider and keep house. There are masculine women and there are effeminate men. My theory is that you have no right to interfere with any one's doing anything that is righteous. Albany and Washington might as well decree by legislation how high a brown-thrasher should fly, or how deep a trout should plunge, as to try to seek out the height and depth of woman's duty. The question of capacity will settle finally the whole question, the whole subject. When a woman is prepared to preach, she will preach, and neither conference nor presbytery can hinder her. When a woman is prepared to move in highest commercial spheres, she will have great influence on the exchange, and no boards of trade can hinder her. I want woman to understand that heart and brain can verify any barrier that politicians may set up, and that nothing can keep her back or keep her down but the question of incapacity.

My chief anxiety is, not that woman have other rights accorded her; but that she, by the grace of God, rise up to the appreciation of the glorious rights she already possesses. First, she has the right to make home happy. That realm no one has ever disputed with her. Men may come home at noon or at night, and then tarry a comparatively little while; but she all day long governs it, beautifies it, sanctifies it. It is within her power to make it the most attractive place on earth. It is the only calm harbor in this world. You know as well as I do, that this outside world and the business world, are a long scene of jostle and contention. The man who has a dollar struggles to keep it; the man who has it not struggles to get it. Prices up. Prices down. Losses. Gains. Misrepresentations. Underselling. Buyers depreciating; salesmen exaggerating. Tenants seeking less rent; landlords demanding more. Struggles about office. Men who are in trying to keep in; men out trying to get in. Slips. Tumbles. Defalcations. Panics. Catastrophes. Oh, woman! thank God you have a home and that you may be queen in it. Better be there than wear a Victoria's coronet. Better be there than carry the purse of a princess. Your abode may be humble, but you can, by your faith in God, and your cheerfulness of demeanor, gild it with splendors such as an upholsterer's hand never yet kindled. There are abodes in every city—humble, two stories; four plain, unpapered rooms; a desirable neighborhood; and yet there is a man who would die on the threshold rather than surrender. Why? It is home. Whenever he thinks of it he sees angels of God hovering around it. The ladders of heaven are let down to that house. Over the child's rough crib

A TRUE STORY.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.38; the month before $188.80 and before that the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the Perfection, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co., Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE G.

there are the chantings of angels as those that broke over Bethlehem. It is home. These children may come up after awhile, and they may win high position, and they may have an affluent residence; but they will not until their dying day forget that humble roof, under which their father rested, and their mother sang, and their sisters played. Oh, if you would gather up all tender memories, all the lights and shades of the heart, all banquetings and reunions, all filial, fraternal, paternal and conjugal affections, and you had only just four letters with which to spell out that height and depth, and length, and breadth, and magnitude, and eternity of meaning, you would, with streaming eyes, and trembling voice, and agitated hand, write it out in those four living capitals, H-O-M-E.

When you want to get your grandest idea of a queen, you do not think of Catherine of Russia, or of Anne of England, or Marie Theresa of Germany; but when you want to get your grandest idea of a queen, you think of the plain woman who sat opposite your father at the table, or walked with him arm-in-arm down life's pathway; sometimes to the thanksgiving banquet, sometimes to the grave, but always together—soothing your petty griefs, correcting your childish waywardness, joining in your infantile sports, listening to your evening prayers, toiling for you with needle or at the spinning-wheel, and on cold nights wrapping you up snug and warm. And then at last on that day when she lay in the back room dying, and you saw her take those thin hands with which she had toiled for you so long, and put them together in a dying prayer that commended you to the God whom she had taught you to trust—Oh, she was the queen! The chariots of God came down to fetch her; and as she went up all heaven rose up. You cannot think of her now without a rush of tenderness that stirs the deep foundations of your soul, and you feel as much a child again as when you cried on her lap; and if you could bring her back again to speak just once more your name, as tenderly as she used to speak it, you would be willing to throw yourself on the ground and kiss the sod that covers her, crying: "Mother! mother!" Ah! she was the queen—she was the queen. Now, can you tell me how many thousands miles a woman like that would have to travel down before she got to the ballot-box? Compared with this work of training kings and queens for God and eternity, how insignificant seems all this work of voting for aldermen and common councilmen, and sheriffs, and constables, and mayors, and presidents! To make one such grand woman as I have described, how many thousands would you want of those people who go in the round of fashion and dissipation, going as far toward disgraceful apparel as they dare go, so as not to be arrested by the police—their behavior a sorrow to the good and a caricature of the vicious, and an insult to that God who made them women and not gorgons, and tramping on, down through a frivolous and dissipated life, to temporal and eternal damnation.

Oh, woman, with the lightning of your soul, strike dead at your feet all these allurements to dissipation and to fashion. Your immortal soul cannot be fed upon such garbage. God calls you up to empire and dominion. Will you have it? Oh, give God your heart, give to God all your best energies; give to God all your culture; give to God all your refinement; give yourself to him, for this world and the next. Soon all these bright eyes will be quenched, and these voices will be hushed. For the last time you will look upon this fair earth. Father's hand, mother's hand, sister's hand, child's hand will no more be in yours. It will be night, and there will come up a cold wind from the Jordan, and you must start. Will it be a lone woman on a trackless moor? Ah! no. Jesus will come up in that hour and offer his hand, and he will say: "You stood by me when you were well; now I will not desert you when you are sick." One wave of his hand and the storm will drop; and another wave of his hand and midnight will break into midnoon; and another wave of his hand and the chambers of God will come down from the treasure-houses of heaven, with robes lustrous, blood-washed and heaven-glinted, in which you will array yourself for the marriage supper of the Lamb. And then with Miriam, who struck the timbrel of the Red Sea; and with Deborah, who led the Lord's host into the fight; and with Hannah, who gave her Samuel to the Lord; and with Mary, who rocked Jesus to sleep while there were angels singing in the air; and with sisters of charity, who bound up the battle-wounds of the Crimea, you will, from the chalice of God, drink to the soul's eternal rescue.

Your dominion is home. O woman! What a brave fight for home the women of Ohio made some ten or fifteen years ago, when they banded together and in many of the towns and cities of that state marched in procession, and by prayer and Christian songs shut up more places of dissipation than were ever counted. Were they opened again? Oh yes. But is it not a good thing to shut up the gates of hell for two or three months? It seemed that men engaged in the business of destroying others did not know how to cope with this kind of warfare. They knew how to fight the Maine liquor law, and they knew how to fight the National Temperance society and they knew how to fight the Sons of Temperance and Good Samaritans; but when Deborah appeared upon the scene, Sisera took to his feet and got to the mountains. It seems that they did not know how to contend against "Coronation," and "Old Hundred," and "Brattle Street," and "Bethany," they were so very intangible. These men found that they could not accomplish much against that kind of warfare, and in one of the cities a regiment was brought out all armed to disperse the women. They came down in battle array; but oh, what poor success! for that regiment was made up of gentlemen, and gentlemen do not like to shoot women with hymn-books in their hands. Oh, they found that gunning for female prayer-meetings was a very poor business! No real damage was done, although there was threat of violence after threat of violence all over the land. I really think if the women of the east had as much faith in God as their sisters of the west had, and the same recklessness of human criticism, I really believe that in one month three-fourths of the grog-shops of our cities would be closed, and there would be running through the gutters of the streets, Burgundy, and Cognac, and Hellsick, and old Port and Schiedam Schnapps, and lager beer, and you would save your fathers, and your husbands, and your sons, first, from a drunkard's grave, and second, from a drunkard's hell! To this battle for home let all women rouse themselves. Thank God for our early home. Thank God for our present home. Thank God for the coming home in heaven.

One twilight, after I had been playing with the children for some time, I lay down on the lounge to rest. The children said, play more. Children always want to play more. And, half asleep and half awake, I seemed to dream this dream: It seemed to me that I was in a far-distant land—not Persia, although more than Oriental luxuriance crowned the cities; nor the tropics—although more than tropical fruitfulness filled the gardens; nor Italy—although more than Italian softness filled the air. And I wandered around, looking for thorns and nettles, but I found none of them grew there. And I walked forth and I saw the sun rise, and I said: "When will it set again?" and the sun sank not. And I saw all the people in holiday apparel, and I said: "When do they put on workman's garb again, and delve in the mine, and sweater at the forge?" but neither the garments nor the robes did they put off. And I wandered in the suburbs and I said: "Where do they bury the dead of this great city?" and I looked along by the hills where it would be most beautiful for the dead to sleep, and I saw castles and towns, and battlements; but not a mausoleum nor monument, nor white slab could I see. And I went into the great chapel of the town, and I said: "Where do the poor worship? where are the benches on which they sit?" and a voice answered: "We have no poor in this great city." And I wandered out, seeking to find the place where were the hovels of the destitute; and I found mansions of amber and ivory and gold, but no tear did I see or sigh hear. I was bewildered, and I sat under the shadow of a great tree, and I said: "What am I, and whence comes all this?" And at that moment there came from among the leaves, skipping up the flowery paths and across the sparkling waters, a very bright and sparkling group; and when I saw their step I knew it, and when I heard their voices I thought I knew them; but their apparel was so different from anything I had ever seen, I bowed a stranger to strangers. But after awhile, when they clapped their hands and shouted: "Welcome! welcome!" the mystery was solved, and I saw that time had passed and that eternity had come, and that God had gathered us up into a higher home; and I said: "Are we all here?" and the voices of innumerable generations answered: "All here;" and while tears of gladness were raining down our cheeks, and the branches of Lebanon cedars were clapping their hands, and the towers of the great city were chiming their welcome, we began to laugh and sing, and leap and shout: "Home! home! home!"

Then I felt a child's hand on my face, and it woke me. The children wanted to play more. Children always want to play more.

THE best investment in real estate is to keep buildings well painted. Paint protects the house and saves repairs. You sometimes want to sell—many a good house has remained unsold for want of paint. The rule should be, though, "the best paint or none." That means Somerby Goes Free.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18.—Judge McCray, of the Criminal Court, yesterday dismissed the indictments that have been for two years hanging over the following officers of the defunct Iron Hall: Freeman D. Somerby, Amos H. Hosmer, Joseph Gladding, J. Henry Hays, E. W. Rouse, C. H. Baker, and J. H. Eckersly. They were under indictment for embezzling $200,000 in funds of the order. The attorney for the Iron Hall officers raised the point before the court the Iron Hall did not control the money, but the Supreme Sitting had and virtually owned it. The defendants constituted the Supreme Sitting and could not embezzle from themselves; also, the alleged crime was committed in Philadelphia, and not punishable in this state.

Burned by Electricity.
Cleveland, O., June 18.—People passing along Ontario street last evening were startled by the piercing screams of a woman which came from the roof of a restaurant known as the New Wright House. A woman was entangled in the telephone and electric light wires forty feet above the ground. Her clothing was on fire and she was loudly calling for help. Several men ran up the stairs to the roof. Thomas Bell ascended by the fire escape. Bell reached the unfortunate woman as soon as the other men and together they released her from her perilous predicament. Just as they had succeeded in freeing her Bell caught hold of one of the wires with his hands, and was almost dead before he could be rescued. The woman will die.
